THE BACKSTORY

A long time ago three siblings were separated from their parents and raised by a famous and well known scientist in a rusty mysterious isolated mansion . He held them captive for as long as they can remember.

He used to practice odd experiences on them .

They were locked up in their separated bedrooms with no way to communicate with the outside world. The only possible way that they met each other was in the creepy laboratory where they were chained

,anesthetized and drugged to keep calm .They ignore everything of these experiences and their effects but no one of them can deny that they had some terrible side effects on them .

One night , one of them was trying to escape to discover his past life that have been a mystery for too long. It turned out that the experiences they endured was making them have superpowers.
